WCSA-NASPO COMPUTER CONTRACTS

BULLETIN NO. 11

Educational Packages Added

The Master Price Agreement with Howard has been amended to add Educational Packages. The amendment is based on the Contractors' response to the RFP that opened on October 13, 2005. The amended MPA, detailing the packages that were added, is on our website.

Remember, as this Amendment change the terms and conditions of the Master Agreement, which is incorporated into your entity's Participating Addendum, you MUST amend your Participating Addendum if you do NOT want to allow your agencies to avail themselves of these educational packages.

This is the last Contractor who responded to the RFP. All of the Contractors are working on updating their websites to include the Educational Packages. This has turned out to be a much more difficult process then originally anticipated due to the restriction of only being allowed to purchase the audio-visual related products in a bundle with a laptop or computer. Anyone interested in ordering these products should contact their sales representative for assistance until the product bundles are available on the website.
